Tommy

Over the past 12 years Tommy has been working in the field of leadership and management training as a trainer and consultant. Tommy has previous experience in the Hong Kong Police Force as a Detective Senior Inspector (15 years) plus extensive training experience in banking. Following his studies in personality and psychology in recent years, Tommy has successfully integrated into his leadership training both understanding of personality and real workplace experiences.

Whilst working in the Learning and Development Department, Asia-Pacific Region of HSBC as a Leadership and Management Training Manager, Tommy was not only responsible for delivering training courses to the HSBC establishments in the AP Region, but also assigned as Master Trainer for “Presentation Skills”, “Negotiation Skills” and “Performance Coaching” as well as various levels of leadership programmes. He coached and accredited trainers in the AP Region.

As well as delivering, Tommy also designs training courses, ranging from “Effective Time Management” to “Entrepreneurial Leadership”. In 2009, Tommy was appointed the Location Head of Training for an HSBC Software Development set up in Guangzhou where he looked after the development of over 3,000 staff.

Tommy is a seasoned toastmaster with many awards to his credit. His highest achievement was winning the District Champion of the Humorous Speech Contest in 2005. Widely recognised for his public speaking and presentation skills, Tommy was invited to deliver public speaking and interview workshops by the Chinese University of Hong Kong and the Polytechnic University of Hong Kong.

In the academic field, Tommy has attained a Masters degree in HRM from Macquarie University (Sydney). He is also a Global NLP Trainer and Consultant. In 2009, he was appointed the Visiting Associate Professor of the South China University of Technology.
